“Protecting Our Communities”

America’s counties provide a variety of essential services. Many of these services work to protect our communities.

Counties are the first to respond to emergency situations and are primarily responsible for planning for disasters. Counties also work to protect families, children, and youth.

Henderson County is one of 3,066 counties in the United States, which are collectively responsible for the well being of more than 250 million residents.

Counties provide services that make America’s communities stronger, safer places to live and raise families. Counties police our neighborhoods, fight fires, save lives, keep families healthy and children safe, house and find homes for abandoned pets, help those in need, and perform countless other jobs.

Counties have a long history of providing critical services. County governments are the citizens’ local government voice, providing solutions that bring communities together.

In recognition of the leadership, innovation and valuable service provided by our nation’s counties:

Now, therefore, be it resolved that Henderson County, North Carolina hereby proclaims April 23 – 29, 2006 as County Government Week.

Adopted this the 3rd day of April 2006.

William L. Moyer, Chairman

ATTEST:
